Description

The mission of the CCI France Russie (the Franco-Russian Chamber of Commerce and Industry) is to strengthen economic and commercial relations between France and Russia. For more than 20 years, our association supports French companies in the Russian market and Russian companies in France. Our French-Russian team advises and proposes individual solutions, adapted to every project and objective. Our specialists in different sectors provide members with their experience in conducting studies, testing market potential, finding partners and organizing customized business missions. With more than 400 member companies from various sectors of activity, CCI France Russie is currently the first network of French companies in Russia, and a trustful partner for Russian business in discovering French market.
